Fr. Thomas's Weekly Reflection

Life sped up so much, especially in the times of pandemic: policies changing from day to day, rules that cannot last more than a few hours, advices that were perfect yesterday but today are not even true. In these circumstances the way we made decisions have also changed. And this applies not only to our present and future, but also to those areas of our lives that have so far been considered calm and not requiring any rush what-so-ever. Sometimes decisions have to be made in the matter of seconds, sometimes it may take a bit longer, but it's always inevitable. However, the decision-making process brings with it the need for a critical evaluation of our own choices: it is as a form of growing in wisdom to allow ourselves to identify and correct wrong decisions.

In today's Liturgy of the Word we hear about the decisions regarding one's faith, morality, approach and attitude towards God. In the first reading we are presented with the issue of choices we make in our earthly life, which has an impact on our eternal life: Is it my way that is unfair, or rather, are not your ways unfair? When someone virtuous turns away from virtue to commit iniquity, and dies it is because of the iniquity he committed that he must die. But if he turns from the wickedness he has committed, he does what is right and just, he shall preserve his life.

In the light of the first reading, the parable Jesus tells His disciples in the Gospel reminds us how relatable to us are the two sons and their responses, but also how important is to make right choices and stand by them, as well as amending our incorrect judgments. Two sons represent to us examples of an incompatibility between the declarations and actions. One says yes first, but then doesn't go to work in the vineyard. The other one says no, but then goes.

In life, we sometimes make empty promises or in an ostentatious way we play the "Jesus card". You have probably seen many athletes wearing t-shirts, head bands, jerseys referring to Jesus, but do their lives reflect what they verbally embrace? We also sometimes call ourselves believers, especially when it is convenient for us and may bring us concrete benefit. However, when it comes to testifying to it with our important choices, with our life, our attitude at work place or on the street, during the elections, when there's a need to stand up for an important cause, suddenly making a public declaration of faith may become inconvenient. This is the attitude of the first son for whom there is no place in the Kingdom of Heaven. Why? Because despite his declared faith, he did not really fulfill his father's will.

If I want to participate in the Kingdom that has been prepared for me from the foundation of the world, I must live by faith every day, not just by its declarations.

HOPE TO DIE:

THE CHRISTIAN MEANING OF
DEATH AND THE RESURRECTION OF THE BODY.

Book Study starting soon!

Scott Hahn explores the significance of death and burial from a Catholic perspective. The promise of the bodily resurrection brings into focus the need for the dignified care of our bodies at the hour of death. Unpacking both Scripture and Catholic teaching, Hope to Die reminds us that we are destined for glorification on the last day.

Our bodies have been made by a God who loves us. Even in death, those bodies point to the mystery of our salvation.

CHESTERTON ACADEMY OF ST. JOHN PAUL II HIGH SCHOOL

GEOMETRY TEACHER NEEDED

The Chesterton Academy of St. John Paul II is in need of a geometry teacher; a long-term sub has graciously been filling the position, but we are still looking for a long-term candidate. The position includes two sections of Euclidian geometry (taught to freshmen and sophomores) five days per week in the afternoons. The position is part-time, but parties interested in expanding it to a full-time position are welcome to make an inquiry.

Interested applicants should email the headmaster, Blaise Hockel, at bhockel@chestertonjpii.org.
