Tackling Stressors Girls Face Today

Diagnosed Anxiety

Studies show an estimated 32% of adolescents have been diagnosed with an anxiety disorder. God reminds us not to fear. God calls everyone to greatness and courage. How can you support your daughter and help her overcome self-discouragement?

Worst Case Scenario Thinking

Those who live in the heavy fog of the "what if" can feel paralyzed by their circumstances. Anxiety this severe isn't something to ignore. A trained professional can tap into her fears in a safe and productive way to help her overcome them.

"Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you." 1 Peter 5:7

Fr. Tomasz's Weekly Reflection

We live in a world where food is produced in such great amounts that it is thrown away; meanwhile there are many countries where millions of people are starving. In such a world, Jesus sees crowds of people who are hungry for more than what can satisfy their stomachs. He sees people who want to find the answer to the question of how to live their lives. Unable to find it, they satisfy their desires with anything that comes their way; in other words they fill their themselves with junk food.

Life cannot stand the void. To eliminate it, we reach for various fillers like alcohol, pornography, drugs, or other pleasures. It turns out, however, that after filling up with them, we feel even more empty and devastated. If we think for a moment, what we really need in life, we can all say that first and foremost we desire love. The miracle of the multiplication of the bread was intended to convince Jesus' followers about it. By distributing the bread, Jesus showed that we receive love by offering it to others. Our civilization proposes a completely different concept of love: take, use, abuse, have something of this life, take advantage of it. Jesus stands in contradiction to these tendencies.

The gesture of distribution is present in the Eucharist. In the Church's liturgy the default posture while receiving the Body of Christ is kneeling, accepting Jesus' love in the greatest respect and gratitude, but also preparing to carry out this gesture further in our lives. In fact, the celebration of the Eucharist concludes with the distribution of the Communion, rather than placing it at any other time in the liturgy. It happens so that in gratitude for receiving the 'food for life' par excellence, we may go out and feed others! In the Acts of the Apostles we hear about the early Christians, who lived out of love to the point that everyone received everything according to their needs, from the sacrifices made at the feet of the Apostles.

Why did Jesus and the Apostles not run short of either the bread or the fish? Because they gave away as much as anyone wanted. They did not limit anyone, so they did not lack anything. It is a miracle that once we allow ourselves to risk everything by distributing God's love, it flows in an ever wider stream, unstoppable and ever growing. Sometimes we are afraid that we will end up running out of love. However, we need to understand that ceasing this distribution of God's love equals losing it for ourselves as well.

In the story of the multiplication in today's Gospel no one was missing anything, because no one wanted to keep anything just for themselves. Even the smallest good deeds, the smallest gifts echo widely in heaven. Whether it's hospitality, almsgiving, or generosity, they are simply different expressions of love. One may ask, since God loves all people so much, why wouldn't He solve all their problems himself? This is so that we, by helping others, may be freed from the punishment for our sins. For when someone gives to those in need, he receives even more from them.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

CLASSES START SOON!

DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER

Bring your child's baptism certificate and full payment and register at the office.

Spiritual Adoption

I am 5 months old.

Half-way there and just over one pound! If born today, I would have a chance of surviving...with lots of help, of course. Your prayers have helped my mother with her pregnancy and helped her seek the support she needed the past few months since she learned about me.

STEWARDSHIP CORNER

The story of the multiplication of the loaves and the fishes is a familiar one, and has many lessons, not least of which is our willingness to share who we are and what we have. Exercising good stewardship serves to release God's power and bountifulness on the world and its people. Do we realize that there is enough for all if we are willing to share? Are we aware that God is at work when we share our time, our money and our other resources in His name?

Adorers Needed

We need more adorers for Wednesday evenings from

10 PM-11 PM

and Wednesday mornings between 1AM and 3AM.

Call the office to sign up.
