STEWARDSHIP CORNER

God's Favor on Us

In today's reading from the Gospel of Luke we hear the proclamation of the baptism of Jesus with "all the people." Indeed, "heaven was opened," and the Father announced his special favor. Whenever we partake of the body and blood of Christ, heed his call in our daily lives, share his Good News, become instruments of his transforming justice and peace, heaven is opened to us, and through the Holy Spirit, the Lord announces his special favor on us as well. A good stewardship reflection this week might be this: How, or in what ways, have we personally experienced God's special favor in our lives?

Fr. Tomasz's Weekly Reflection

Every human being, at some point of their lives, gets to a moment of a self-reflection, asking themselves these or similar questions: Who am I? What distinguishes me from others? Why do I exist? Those who have experienced God in their lives may go a step further, asking: Why did God want me for himself? Today's Feast of the Baptism of the Lord comes to our aid in answering those questions.

We move from the reality of a Baby Jesus to an adult Christ, coming to the banks of the Jordan river to be baptized by John. John's baptism was for the Israelites a sign and testimony of a change in the way of life, that is, conversion and repentance. Jesus did not need it, as John himself testifies, but He came to drown the sins of the whole world in the waters of the Jordan, and then in his Blood.

Baptism was and remains a sign of a change in life. Also for Jesus. He now exchanges the hidden life in Nazareth for that of a traveling teacher. He will journey through the land of Israel proclaiming the Good News of Salvation, which He will seal with his blood shed at the Calvary hill. That change is founded in the reception of the mandate from the Father, when the voice of a loving confession is heard above the waters: You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased.

The baptism of Christ is a reminder that in our baptism we have received not only a New Life, but also God's love. We do not only become God's children, but his beloved children. It is then that the Heavenly Father says to each of us personally: You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased.

Baptism calls us to develop the gift of God's childhood, to live for the Kingdom. To live beyond what it means to be only biologically human. To finally open our eyes and see what is really important in life. God is a demanding God, He's not satisfied with the bare minimum, He does not create us for a basic vegetation. The one who truly loves demands. If the parents did not love their children, they would give them a free hand and give up their upbringing. But would those children be able to live their lives well in the future?

God has set for his beloved children a requirement to strive to grow in this God's childhood. To collaborate with the grace of Baptism. Because He wants us to live fully, knowing that faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.

Let this Sunday of the Baptism of the Lord be for us a reminder of the place and day in which God's loving confession resounded over each of us, when we became his beloved children. Let it also inspire us to make the necessary changes in our lives, to move from basic organic being to living our lives in love received from our Heavenly Father, living the lives of the beloved children of God, who is Love.
