Fr. Tomasz's Weekly Reflection

Today's readings confront us with a truth that is both beautiful and uncomfortable: God is far more generous than we think... and we are far less generous than He calls us to be.

Isaiah tells us, "Seek the Lord while He may be found... for my thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways my ways." God's ways are not simply different, they are more generous, more merciful, more extravagant than anything we would ever imagine. And Jesus, in the Gospel, gives us a parable that exposes the gap between God's generosity and our own. The landowner goes out at dawn, then at nine, noon, three, and even five o'clock, calling workers who have done almost nothing. At the end of the day, he pays everyone the same wage. And the ones who worked longest complain: "You have made them equal to us." But the landowner answers: "Are you envious because I am generous?"

This is the heart of the Gospel: God's generosity is undeserved, unearned, and freely given. And yet, when God asks us to be generous in return, with our time, our talents, our forgiveness, our patience, we often respond like the early workers: "Why should I give more than others? Why should I do more? Why should I serve if others don't?" The parable reveals something uncomfortable: We love God's generosity when it benefits us, but we resist it when it demands something from us.

But here is the deeper truth: God's generosity is not only a gift; it is an invitation. He gives freely so that we may respond freely. He pours grace into our lives so that we may cooperate with that grace. This is the Catholic teaching on grace and cooperation made visible in story form. The workers hired late in the day did not earn the wage, they simply responded to the invitation. And the workers hired early did not earn more by working longer, they simply cooperated with the call they received.

In the same way, every good thing we have: faith, forgiveness, vocation, talents, opportunities, is a pure gift. But God does not save us without us. He invites us to step into the vineyard, to work, to serve, to give, to love. Our generosity is already grace in action. It is God working in us, and us freely responding. So today, the question is not: "Why does God give so much to others?" The question is: "Why am I so hesitant to give more of myself to God?" The vineyard is still open. The invitation is still extended. God is still generous, even at the eleventh hour.

Salve Regina part 1 (last week)

Salve Regina part 2

Salve Regina part 3 (next week)

Hail Holy Queen, Mother of Mercy

“The glorious Virgin was raised to the dignity of Mother of the King of Kings. Accordingly the Church honors her with the radiant title of Queen and asks us to do the same.”

“[F]or our consolation, we ought to remember that she is a most tender and kind Queen, eager to help us in our miseries. So much so that the Church wants us to call her in this prayer a Queen of Mercy. Hail, Holy Queen, Mother of Mercy!”

“The title of queen implies compassion and charity for the poor...She is a Queen, but not the Queen of Justice, punishing the guilty. She is the Queen of Mercy, full of compassion and pardon for sinners. This is why the Church makes us call her expressly ‘the Queen of Mercy.’”

“[T]his most Blessed Virgin brought us forth to eternal life by her own sorrows. We can call ourselves the children of the sorrows of Mary. Our most loving Mother was always, and in all things, united to the will of God.”

“O most tender Mary, most loving Mother! This is just what you desire. You want us to become children and call out to you in every danger. For you long to help and save us, as you have saved all your children who had recourse to you.”

“Father Nieremberg says that the love all mothers have ever experienced for their children is but a shadow alongside the love Mary has for each one of us. She loves us more than all the angels and Saints together.”

“Mary, the Mother of sinners who wish to mend their lives, seems to feel the miseries of her poor children as if they were her own. When the Canaanite woman begged our Lord to deliver her daughter from diabolical possession...Have pity on me, she said. And she was right to put it that way, for mothers feel the sufferings of their children as if these were their own. And it is thus that Mary too cries out for the sinful soul: ‘Have pity on me!’”

It is absolutely certain that God will not condemn those sinners who have recourse to Mary and for whom she prays. For did He not Himself commend them to her as her children?

-St Alphonsus Liguori
The Glories of Mary

Stewardship Corner

From an early age, we tend to distort the concept of “fairness”: “I am good. I deserve good things. I am not receiving good things. Something must be wrong. Who’s going to fix it?” We also know the age-old expression: “Who ever said life was fair?” Jesus knew this expression when he offered his parable in today’s Gospel reading. Christian stewards acknowledge, with humility, that they receive good things from the Lord in abundance; even if these gifts are not the ones they think they need when they need them. Consider which servants you identify with most in the Gospel reading, the ones who demand “fairness”, or that final servant who, seemingly, deserves the least.

Why Is It Important for Me to Register at My Parish?

Registering is the formal and official way to be a part of our parish community. You must be registered at a parish if you want to receive sacraments, be a sponsor or godparent, or to make tax-deductible donations to the parish.

In addition, living the Catholic life is about much more than attending Mass once a week. Being a part of a community of believers who can support you and also keep you accountable on your faith journey is vital to your eternal life.

Registering at St. Peter is easy. Scan the QR code on the bulletin cover to get started. You can register at more than one parish, and you don’t have to tithe 10%, only what works for you and your budget. All are welcome to join our community here.

Annual Report Fiscal Year 2026

MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

Dear parishioners,

I'm grateful for the chance to share an update on the financial life of St. Peter Catholic Church, prepared together with our parish Finance Council. In today's bulletin, you'll find the full report, offering a clear look at how we've used our resources over the past fiscal year and how they continue to support our mission.

This year has been one of growth, renewal, and careful planning. We welcomed the largest number of students in Religious Education and Sacramental Formation in many years, a beautiful sign of faith flourishing in our parish. Our Bear Catholic Campus Ministry also experienced a strong and fruitful year, forming students and strengthening their connection to the Church.

At the same time, we've been laying important groundwork for the future. We've continued our collaboration with the Greeley Historic Preservation Commission to ensure responsible stewardship of our school building, which will require significant work in the years ahead. We've also advanced the new rectory project, completing essential behind-the-scenes steps such as surveying studies, permitting, and other preparatory tasks that move us closer to construction.

Thanks to your generosity, we have begun rebuilding our parish savings after the previous year's major expenses. This renewed financial stability positions us well for the substantial projects ahead. Your generosity makes all of this possible. Your gifts sustain our ministries, support our families, and allow us to plan responsibly for the future of our parish. I am deeply grateful for every way you share your time, your talents, and your financial support. We give thanks to God for you.

Thank you for your continued support of St. Peter Catholic Church.

God Bless,
Fr. Tomasz Strzebonski
Pastor
